Man

Is multitude

His existence is measured

By the breadth of his intellect and his emotions

By the length of his stature and his constructions

By the depth of his relationships with his fellow man

By the height he reaches in seeking God

DIMENSIONS OF MAN

IN MEMORIAM

Donny Royce
September 28, 1960

Before the throne
He'll stand—not very big
Still, he's calm and sure
For his minute on earth
He served his Lord
Over the murmur of disquiet
His shrill voice pipes
Really not much of an oration
"I lived down there for a while, Lord
Now I've come home
I can only report—mission accomplished
According to plan"

An educator
Advocating and displaying
Uncompromising standards
Insatiable curiosity
Dextrous imagination
Unending search for truth

A guide
Deliberate ceaseless energy
Perpetual progress
"As now—so then"
Challenging by the example of his life

A friend
Warm, genuine, eager
Precise, glistening wit
Personal understanding
Honest confidence and respect

A Christian
Vital, permeating faith
Insight deepened
By devout consecration
To the Spirit of God
Unassuming humility
A man of prayer

A symbol of Taylor University
Intellectual strength
Physical energy
Personal love
Dedicated to the service and the glory
Of God

Man thinking
An intellect challenged
A mind
Perceiving, discerning
Apprehending, analyzing
Exploring, meditating
Endeavoring to comprehend
Man the intellectual
His capability is never exhausted
His potential is ever being further developed
The fascination of exploration and discovery
The intellectual man
Exercising his mind and his faith
In seeking to understand the relationship between life and truth
Attempting expansion
To comprehend the limitlessness
Of the eternal

GUIDING

B. Joseph Martin, Ph.D. . . . President . . . "The latchstring hangs on the outside and it has your name on it" . . . Representing Taylor University . . . Personal concern and prayer for "the family" . . . Numerous investigations concerning "the move" . . . Cheerful . . . "Not a scrub in the bunch" . . . Southern accent being touched by an Indiana twang . . . Presiding in convocations, evening services . . . Many duties, but always time for a word, a chat, a consultation . . . A spring in his step . . . Loving advocate . . . Governed by the will of God.

Mrs. Evelyn Martin . . . Gracious "first lady" of Taylor University . . . Always present at campus functions . . . An alumna . . . Giving strength and aid for her husband's many tasks . . . Her lovely home open for visits . . . Genuine interest in "the family" . . . And Mother Duryea . . . Prexy's other "girlfriend" . . . Faithful interest . . . Already a part of Taylor.

Board of Trustees . . . Guiding the growth, the future . . . Lux et Fides . . . Vital concern for progress . . . Dedication to God . . . Increased plant usage and enlarged student enrollment . . . Maintaining standards . . . Inquiring, improving, evaluating, adopting . . . The move . . . Many questions to be answered . . . Consideration . . . Prayer . . . And after the final decision—action.

Mrs. Evelyn Martin
Dr. B. Joseph Martin

GUARDIANS OF THE LIGHT AND FAITH

BOARD OF TRUSTEES. Sitting: Donald F. LaSuer, Herbert M. Frazer, G. Harlowe Evans, C. W. Shilling, C. H. Varns, B. Joseph Martin. Standing: H. A. Driver, Earl D. Sticklen, D. Paul Huffman, Richard W. Halfast, Verner S. Mumbulo, Harold P. Halleen, M. C. Patterson, Lester C. Gerig, Arthur L. Hodson, Elmer G. Seagly, Hugh Townley.

Reverent silence pervades as Dr. Charles Shilling, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and Dr. Rediger officially present the seal to President Martin.

Great Beyond Their Knowing . . . Arising from the academic tradition of medieval scholarship . . . The long black gowns and distinctive caps of the Renaissance student . . . A mark of accomplishment, of knowledge, of wisdom: academic hoods . . . Taylor tradition . . . The staff at the head of the procession . . . New symbol of standards from Dr. John Wengatz . . . Tradition in progress . . . Ceremony of recognition for a man already established in the heart of Taylor.

Presidential Seal . . . Addition to Taylor heritage . . . To be worn at all gatherings in which academic attire is appropriate . . . Symbolizing the office of the president . . . Scroll . . . Exercising judgment . . . Campus policy . . . Off-campus representation . . . Personal ethos . . . Torch . . . Guardianship of knowledge . . . Light and Faith . . . Leadership . . . Ceaseless search for truth . . . Preservation of the dignity of the scholar . . . Laurel wreath . . . Triumph . . . Honor . . . Sense of accomplishment . . . Incentive to strive toward greater goals . . . Even as the office of president is a symbol of Taylor.

Inauguration Ceremony . . . Culmination of three days of activities . . . Emphasis on education . . . Liberal arts . . . One hundred sixty representatives from colleges and universities . . . Marshal Paul Keller bearing the staff . . . Indiana weather at its nicest . . . Taylor hoods . . . Academic procession . . . Photographers everywhere . . . Dr. Fred Pierce Corson . . . Bishop of the Philadelphia Area of the Methodist Church . . . European cap of soft velvet . . . Presentation of the seal . . . Dr. Rediger fastening the clasp . . . Hold it for another photo—just to make sure . . . Acceptance by Dr. Martin . . . Characteristic fatherly concern . . . Pledge to advance Christian education . . . Prayerful dedication . . . Pledge to "mold Taylor into a more effective instrument for the Master's use."

GREAT BEYOND THEIR KNOWING

Dr. Martin and Bishop Corson, along with other academic officials, gather on the lawn in front of Campbell parlors during the post-inauguration festivities.

Dr. Milo A. Rediger
Academic Dean

Dr. William D. Green
Dean of Students

GUIDANCE . . .

Dr. Milo Rediger, Academic Dean and Vice President . . . Dignity . . . Sincerity . . . Warm smile . . . Pin-striped suit . . . Firm hand shake . . . Justifiable pride in the academic and instructional program at Taylor . . . Administrative responsibility during the absence of the President . . . Coordinator for the North Central Association in its liberal arts education study . . . Typical of the academic and spiritual standard of Taylor.

Dr. William Green, Dean of Students . . . Green Dean . . . Orientation program to organize . . . New Testament Survey, Old Testament Survey to teach . . . Meeting of the Scholarship Committee, Student Personnel Committee, or maybe the Campus Activities Committee . . . Conference with head residents . . . Appointments with students for consultation . . . Wednesday night, Student Council . . . Never too busy for a friendly hello . . . Dry sense of humor . . . Deep understanding and patience.

Betty Freese . . . Trusted secretary in the Academic Dean's office . . . Keeping steady contact between the Dean's office and the faculty . . . Preparing forms used in academic procedures . . . Singing in Sunday night services.

Sandy Lomax . . . First year as secretary in the Dean of Student's office . . . Writing reference letters for students and graduates . . . Sending letters to prospective freshmen during the summer . . . Already an asset.

Elaine Hanchu . . . President's secretary . . . Trying to find time for another appointment in Dr. Martin's schedule . . . Stemming the flood of mail that comes to the office . . . Maintaining contact with the other secretaries on the ground floor of the library.

Bill Weston and Dave Jack take turns sipping a coke with Carol Fricke.

IT'S THE LITTLE THINGS

Post Office . . . "Will you check my box?" . . . Campus mail, on 3x5 cards . . . "I got a package from home, but the window isn't open" . . . After Christmas, a block farther to walk . . . Mail up at 8:20 and 4:20 . . . "Can I walk you to the post office after supper?"

Bookstore . . . "Students, leave your books here" . . . Cartridge pens . . . Cards for Sociology terms . . . Folders for term papers . . . "Is your name on the textbook order list?" . . . Expansion during Christmas vacation . . . "Now they sell crackers and popcorn."

Student Offices . . . Yellow linoleum for the Echo . . . Orange drapes for the Gem . . . Travel posters from Israel for Student Council . . . Bulletin board for Youth Conference . . . "Isn't it wonderful to have a phone up here" . . . Chairs in the hall . . . Too much noise to study . . . "What do you mean—asking where the student offices are?"

Grill . . . "Place your order here" . . . Chocolate coke . . . Suicide . . . "I didn't feel like getting dressed up for supper" . . . Late breakfast on Saturday morning . . . "One twist and one with caramel icing" . . . "Do you want butterscotch marble or raspberry sherbet?" . . . "I just came in to use the phone."

Staff librarian Joyce Rouse checks for Dennis Austin's borrower's card as two other students search for source materials in Reader's Guide.

Reviewing for a New Testament Survey test John Losch finds the library stacks quieter than the reading room.

Library . . . Quiet please . . . Return books here . . . Please do not take reference books from this room . . . Reserve books may be taken out at 9:30, if you sign the white card in the back . . . Do not return books to the stacks . . . Causes of the Civil War? . . . Look in the catalog under United States—History—Civil War—Causes . . . Grapes of Wrath isn't on the shelf, and it hasn't been checked out . . . Wonder where it is? . . . Have you signed a borrower's card? . . . I've got to read some Documents for United States History . . . This term paper on Platonic Love is due in just three days . . . Can somebody please tell me where to find an index to free materials? . . . 7:20 until 9:45 . . . Sh-h.

Fill out this form please . . . Is Mrs. Shippy back from Mexico? . . . 8:00 until 5:00 . . . Noisy, busy offices.

RESERV

One of the busiest halls on campus, the corridor connecting the administrative offices, experiences one of its rare moments of quietness.

Control center for campus phones and quick communication with Mrs. Herber's friendly "Number, please," the switchboard stands sentinel in its ground-floor cubby-hole.

BOOKS, PHONE BOOKS, BANK BOOKS

IN THIS SCIENTIFIC AGE

Larry Uhrich carefully adjusts the Bunsen burner and glass tubing for his oxidation-reduction experiment.

"Please enter and leave by the front door to keep the heat in" . . . Listen . . . Experiment . . . Then say . . . "We are fearfully and wonderfully made."

Miss Poe applies an electric shock to the muscle of a frog as Human Anatomy students, Karen Coolman, Don Horney, and Jack Cramblet watch.

Laying bricks, raising beams, and putting in windows for the new Chemistry Building kept maintenance men busy this summer.

Chemistry Building . . . NH_4Cl . . . Maintenance men rushing to finish lab tables before classes begin . . . Chemical fumes invading Fundamentals of Speech, Systematic Theology, English 201 . . . Play rehearsals in C-22 . . . NaNO_3 . . . Largest classrooms on campus . . . Pride and joy of Professor Krueger . . . H_2SO_4 .

Greenhouse . . . Right next door . . . Botany students try to make snapdragons grow . . . "Whose is the tallest?" . . . Miss Wood waters, watches, grades.

Professor Krueger looks over his lecture notes as his Chemistry 221 students, taking that bi-weekly test, wish they could.

OLD BUILDINGS . .

Music Building . . . Helena Memorial Hall . . .
 "Schedule Shreiner for Music Club, Ambassadors, Oratorio, Brass Ensemble, rehearsal for The Devil and Daniel Webster" . . . M-24 . . . Band . . . Chorale . . . Memories of life in the cracker box.

After supper Morris Lounge is a convenient place to sit and chat, or read a report.

LIVING TOGETHER

Football hero, Elmer Vogelsang, finds tackling his books in the dorm more difficult than tackling his opponents on the gridiron.

Eydie Landrith visits Mrs. Haakonsen in the Health center to get an excused absence slip for classes missed because of illness.

Magee Dorm . . . Girls: freshmen, sophomores, seniors . . . Popcorn, sweaters, spiritual experiences to share . . . Rules to obey . . . No ironing after six . . . No cokes after eleven . . . In by 10:00, 11:30, 10:30 . . . "Hey, pipe-down. It's quiet hours" . . . First dates . . . Ring downs . . . Sign out cards . . . Dime to pay for forgetting to sign in . . . Cleaning for open house . . . Bulletin boards . . . Memories, memories.

Priscilla Bruce and Jeanne Granning talk over life in the Bird Barn, redecorated this year for reoccupation by the fairer sex.

From the legion of puppies that invaded campus this fall, these two find a "permanent" home on a Fairlane couch.

Away from the noise of the busy dorm, Dale Senseman learns his Soc terms.

A STONE'S THROW

Fairlane . . . Like commuting . . . "What's going on anyway?" . . . "Which way is Taylor University?" . . . All the comforts of home . . . But no mom . . . A "cool" stove . . . Pizza mix . . . Baseball . . . "At least we don't have to practice in the snow this year" . . . First baseball year for twenty-three out of thirty-two . . . "Join the baseball team and see the South" . . . Mississippi, Georgia, Tennessee . . . Conference games are the ones to watch.

A moment of panic seizes both teams as the ball hangs in the balance.

Bob Bruce seems to have the edge on his opponents as they jump for the ball.

The ball passes from hand to hand under the basket.

Maybe this will be the winning hit of the game; at least it will get a man on base.

... PLAYING HARD, FAIR, AND WELL

The schedule looks very empty at the end of a busy intramural year.

Developing pitching skills is necessary for the pitcher of a championship team.

Intramurals . . . "Does 'within the walls' mean we can't have baseball intramurals" . . . Bowling . . . Football . . . "Of course we play basketball in Indiana" . . . Blackhawks defeat the Thunderbirds for the championship . . . "Are we having softball or baseball intramurals this year . . . Non-varsity athletics.

T-CLUB OFFICERS. Sam Delcamp, President; Clayton Turner, Vice President; Bill Schneck, Tourney Chairman; Bob Rudolph, Secretary; John Affleck, Treasurer.

Now all he has to do is carry four cokes back upstairs.

Members of both teams watch anxiously as Gale Strain and her opponent jump for the ball.

Coach Janet Benning explains the diagrams of plays to Co-captains June Nilsen and June Kearney.

Man meeting man
Playing, serving
Acting, reacting
Working, loafing
Laughing, grieving, loving
Together
Man cannot live
Unto himself alone
His being is fulfilled in his relationship to others
He associates, identifies himself
With his fellow man
The Social man is
The sharing of the joy of living
The flowing of sympathetic response
Part of everyone that he has met
That dimension which measures the depth of human understanding

SOCIAL

Man at Taylor
As he is serving others
His friends, his school
His God
Man preparing as he serves
For a life of service
Giving freely more than is to be expected
Gaining more than is to be expressed
Man's service to man
As he gives
Of his time and ability
Of himself
He discovers more to give
Man . . .

Man in worship
Believing, serving
Consecrating
Praying
Communicating with God
Man reaches to God
Reconciliation
Through the Shepherd, the Door, the Bread of Life
"I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth"
The Spiritual man is
The dedication of a life to God
An answer
The discovery of the meaning of life
Man with God is more than man
In God man finds fulfillment, purpose, expression
"Unless the Lord had been my help
My soul had almost dwelt in silence"
That dimension which measures the height of divine inspiration

What is today's biggest bargain?

Electricity

Reddy says: "I&M electric rates have never been increased. If your electric bill is higher, it's because you're using electricity to take over so many more of your household tasks. Actually, the more you use each month, the less you pay per kilowatthour. Living better electrically costs so little, yet means so much!"

Man
Is multitude
His existence is measured
By the breadth of his intellect and his emotions
By the length of his stature and his constructions
By the depth of his relationships with his fellow man
By the height he reaches in seeking God

DIMENSIONS OF MAN
